We'll Appreciate
Early Turn-in of Farm Bureau Petitions

We will appreciate early return to The Star office of the anti-annexation petition copies which are being circulated by members of the local Farm Bureau.

Petitions will be notarized at The Star and the circulators paid at the rate of 10c per signature, the figure established by Arkansas courts. I am paying for the signatures personally.

We urge speedy return of the completed petition copies as we want to file the complete report on Hempstead County with Little Rock headquarters this week. Simultaneously we will be starting the petition campaign in Nevada County this week, winding it up next week to meet the Friday, July 16, deadline at Little Rock. The actual deadline is Sunday, July 18—but we are filing on the 16th to be on the safe side.

You already know what the petition is about. Arkansas used to lump city and rural vote counts on annexation in a single tally—enabling the big city to overwhelm adjacent rural areas whether they wanted annexation or not.

In the 1969 General Assembly a reform bill was put through, Act 65, requiring a separate count on city and rural votes—and annexation had to win on both tallies to be successful.

However, in the 1971 General Assembly Act 298 was put through to knock out Act 65. Act 298 would return the state to the one-tally scheme of voting on annexation, working a great injustice to the small areas bordering big cities.

The petition now circulating would refer Act 298 to the next general election—stopping 298 from becoming effective until the people voted on 298 in November 1972.

Petition copies, notary facilities, and payment for persons volunteering as circulators, are available at The Star office.

Help us by coming by the newspaper office, picking up petitions and start circulating them in your community—today.

Highways in Arkansas Claim Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents claimed nine lives in Arkansas during the 78-hour Fourth of July holiday weekend.

State Police said seven persons were killed during the same period last year.

All of this year's victims were killed in separate accidents. Two of those killed were pedestrians.

The victims were: — Charles E. Fulcher, 28, of Ogden (Little River County); killed Friday night in a one-car accident about 11 miles south of Nashville.

Famed Louis Armstrong Dies at 71

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis Armstrong, the satchel-mouthed, eye-rolling one-time wail who learned to love the trumpet in a Louisiana school and blew and sang his way into the hearts of millions the world over, died today. He was 71 Sunday.

Armstrong spent 10 weeks in Beth Israel Hospital after winding up a two-week engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in late February.

Nixon Takes Domestic Plan to Missouri

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the ringup on the congressional register holding at "no sale," President Nixon is off to Missouri today to make another regional pitch for his top domestic proposals.

The President and Mrs. Nixon were to depart the White House about noon for a 4 p.m. EDT meeting in Kansas City with news executives from 13 states.

The hour-long conclave, as have such meetings elsewhere, was expected to focus on the administration's schemes revenue sharing, welfare reform and government reorganization.

Although Nixon recently told a similar group of media officials in Rochester, N.Y., that Congress is going to pass each of those proposals because of the pressure of a "taxpayers' revolt," prospects remain dim.

A White House advance man said the President also would discuss family-health problems, growing drug addiction, and pollution.

The Nixons were to fly on to San Clemente, Calif., later in the day for a two-week stay at the Western White House.

Several administration officials preceded the chief executive into Kansas City for advance briefings, including a midday news conference by Herbert Klein, director of communications; Donald Rumsfeld, assistant for domestic programs; Clark MacGregor, congressional liaison chief, and William Ruckelshaus, head of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Invitations were extended to editors and other communications leaders from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

Contrary to Nixon's continued expressions of optimism for his top three domestic recommendations to the 92nd Congress, only welfare reform is seen as having much of a chance in the coming year.

A welfare bill acceptable to the administration cleared the House last month and in about two weeks will undergo hearings in the Senate Finance Committee, which balked last year.

Minor Accidents on July 4

City police report two minor accidents on July 4. The first occurred at 12:45 p.m. when a car driven by Jesse Warren hit a parked car on East 4th St. which was occupied by Donna Stevenson of Little Rock. Warren was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, disturbing the peace, DWI, and no driver's license. Officers Shirley and Ward covered the accident.

The other accident was at 1 p.m. at the intersection of Highway 67 and S. Spruce. A car driven by Joe Maxwell, Hope, slowed to avoid hitting a child on a bicycle and collided with a car driven by Billy Schmitt of Rt. 1, Emmet. Maxwell was charged with failure to yield right-of-way. The accident was covered by Officer McCulley.

U.S. Troop Withdrawal From Vietnam Faster Than Was Projected Steel Union, Owners Called by Nixon

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called on negotiators in the steel industry today to reach a "constructive settlement" that will keep the industry competitive in world markets and maintain the economic recovery.

The President met with the union and management negotiators for about an hour on the eve of their contract talks and, a spokesman said, laid out the economic problems facing the industry.

Nixon called for "hard bargaining" in the talks but refrained from setting a specific wage settlement he would like to see brought about. The contract expires in the industry July 31.

It was Nixon's first try at intervening in any way in a negotiating session before it actually got under way and reflected a new impetus by the White House of more direct involvement to hold down wage and price increases.

Nixon emphasized the relationship of the steel industry in the world market, told the negotiators how productivity has failed to increase, how profits have been lagging and wages remaining stable in comparison to other industries.

The United Steelworkers of America, bargaining on behalf of 540,000 workers, is demanding a 3.1-per-cent pay boost over three years to replace the contract expiring midnight July 31. The union and the Basic Steel Industry Conference, representing the nine top firms, are expected to open talks Wednesday.

In its third and sharpest "inflation alert" in April, the President's Council of Economic Advisors said an expensive settlement would throw more people out of work and open U.S. markets to more imported steel.

The union and steel companies later voiced suspicions of possible White House moves should the Nixon administration consider a final settlement inflationary.

USW President I. W. Abel said the administration was "singling out the worker as the fall guy," and possibly considering an attempt to impose compulsory arbitration on the union.

Abel is under strong pressure in his union, where the average wage is $3.45 an hour, to match the recent pace-setting settlements of can industry and aluminum workers.

Probes Ordered Into Forrest City Shooting

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Pros. Atty. Gene Raff of Helena has ordered three separate investigations into the shooting of a black man by a Forrest City policeman.

Eddie Joplin, 45, of Forrest City was dead on arrival at a Forrest City hospital Friday night after being shot by Patrolman Buddy Kennedy, authorities said.

Forrest City Police Chief Marvin Gunn said Monday that Raff had requested investigations by the St. Francis County Sheriff's office, the State Police and the FBI.

The chief said that Kennedy had reported stopping Joplin after a high-speed chase through the city. Gunn quoted Kennedy as telling Joplin he was under arrest on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Kennedy said that as he was searching Joplin, the black man drew a pistol with the hammer cocked and placed it against the officer's chest. Kennedy said he knocked the pistol aside, drew his own gun and fired twice.

Prime Rate Boosted by N.Y. Bank

NEW YORK (AP) — Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. today became the first major bank to boost its prime lending rate to 6 per cent from 5½ per cent, a move touched off several weeks ago by smaller banks.

Banks of New York also raised the rate it charges most credit-worthy corporate customers to 6 per cent.

A spokesman for Manufacturers Hanover Trust said the sharp rise in short-term borrowing rates in the cost of funds to the bank over recent weeks had reached a point where the prime rate was "so clearly out of line as to require adjustment."

First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co., of Philadelphia, first took the initiative in mid-June by boosting the key rate to 5½ per cent from 5½ per cent.

Transatlantic Flights for $200 Planned

MONTREAL (AP) — A roundtrip fare of about $200 for transatlantic flights paid for 90 to 120 days in advance is reported close to approval by the world's international airlines.

The proposal, under discussion by the 40 lines attending the North Atlantic fares conference of the International Air Transport Association, is aimed at winning back the business being lost to low-fare charter lines.

"There is a general feeling of acceptance of a fare in the plus or minus $200 range," said an IATA spokesman Monday night. "However, there are a number of different views as to what form that fare should take."

Except for the $200 youth fares recently put in by a number of major lines, the cheapest New York-to-London roundtrip fare now is $272 in the slack winter season. Pan American, TWA, BOAC and Air Canada are urging the lower advance-pay rate and have threatened to quit IATA unless the other lines agree.

IATA is a rate-fixing organization formed to prevent fare wars that would drive some lines out of business. The charter airlines are not members. Unanimity is required for approval of fare changes.

The conference opened June 29 and is expected to last about a month.

Plans for Clinic Are Approved

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Showman Earl Carroll, killed in 1948 in a plane crash, willed funds from his estate to establish a women's cancer clinic.

Plans for the Earl Carroll Research and Diagnostic Institute for Women have been approved in Superior Court. Trustees said it took 23 years to settle debts and taxes against the $1.3 million estate.

New Record for Holiday Road Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents during the Fourth of July weekend claimed 612 lives—a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

The toll compared with a previous high of 611 in 1969 and 540 last year. In all three cases, the holiday period ran 78 hours, roughly three days.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 520 and 620 might die in traffic during this year's second warm-weather holiday weekend.

The record toll for any Independence Day weekend was in 1967 when the figure reached 732 over a four-day period. The figure also is the highest for any warm-weather holiday.

In the worst single accident over the past weekend, 10 persons were killed and another was injured when two cars collided head-on along a straight stretch of Interstate 85 in southern Indiana.

Five persons drowned in Arkansas during the Fourth of July holiday period.

Four of the victims were under the age of 20.

The youngest was 9-year-old Tracy Dean Cole of Holly Springs, who drowned Saturday while swimming in the Ouachita River during a family outing.

Other victims were: — Douglas Jackson, 16, of Bald Knob, who drowned Sunday in the White River near Mountain View when he fell from a spillway.

— Douglas Lunsford, 15, of Rison, who drowned Friday night in the Slone River about nine miles north of Rison while swimming at a church social.

J. D. Kersey, 16, of North Little Rock, who drowned Sunday when swept from an inner tube on which he was floating into a storm sewer ditch in North Little Rock.

— Kenneth Ray Cohall, 24, of Cherry Valley, who drowned while swimming Sunday night in the St. Francis River bay at Birdeye.

Little Change Expected in Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Little change is expected in Arkansas weather for the next few days. Hot, humid conditions are expected to prevail, along with a chance of mainly afternoon and evening thundershowers.

However, a coolfront has become stationary in Central Arkansas, and this has brought slightly drier air to the northern portion. The front is expected to move little and slowly weaken. Thundershowers will be more numerous in the vicinity of the frontal zone.

Thundershowers Monday were strongest in the northern portions of the state with funnel clouds sighted over Newport and Blytheville during the afternoon. Another heavy thundershower moved through the Little Rock area for the second consecutive day accompanied by winds estimated at 50 miles per hour, heavy rain and some small hail.

Afternoon highs Monday were a little lower as compared to Sunday's highs. Pine Bluff and Texarkana were top with 96, while other highs ranged downward to an 84 at Fayetteville. The lower temperatures were due mainly to cloud cover and showers.

Fitzsimmons Has Power Over Rebels

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The mantle of power in the huge Teamsters union appears certain to remain with Frank E. Fitzsimmons, despite opposition from two rebel local leaders.

Fitzsimmons, a protégé of the imprisoned James R. Hoffa, assumed the presidency two weeks ago when Hoffa resigned as president of the union.

"Slim" was the way Don Vestal, Nashville local leader, described his chances of defeating the 63-year-old Fitzsimmons for a five-year term as president in Thursday's scheduled union elections.

But Theodore Daley, secretary-treasurer of a Yonkers, N.Y., local, took a more positive view.

"Call me General President Daley, because I'm going to take the job," Daley said.

Vestal and Daley, in separate interviews, accused Fitzsimmons of running the union as a dictatorship and refusing to give the union's 2 million rank and file members a voice in its affairs.

Daley said he did not believe that Hoffa sent a message from his prison cell endorsing Fitzsimmons, "and even if he did, Hoffa can't run this convention from Lewisburg."

Hoffa, who reigned over the union for 10 years, entered the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary four years ago on convictions for jury tampering and mail fraud.

The union's secretary-treasurer and 12 vice presidents also endorsed Fitzsimmons.

Boy in Ape Costume Left Hanging

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Tom Moyer, 14, put on a gorilla suit and climbed up to the marquee of the Paramount Theater to advertise the movie being shown.

He was sitting on the marquee when he slipped and found himself hanging from a light standard with his feet searching for foothold on the bottom of the marquee.

An anonymous telephone call brought five fire engines and rescue cars to the scene.

"We are under impression somebody was going to jump," Fire Bureau Capt. Dale Palmer said.

Firemen put up a ladder and helped young Moyer down.

Agnew Offers India No Promises

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

BOMBAY (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew expressed U.S. sympathy today for India's burden in caring for six million refugees from the fighting in East Pakistan and said Washington probably will seek to give New Delhi "the additional economic assistance to handle this matter."

He said he brought no specific promises of assistance, but told newsmen aboard Air Force Two as it flew here from Singapore for a 90-minute refueling stop that he believed more U.S. aid to India would be under "continued consideration" by the State Department. He is en route to the Middle East.

Outside Bombay Airport several hundred Indians demonstrated against continued U.S. military shipments to Pakistan. Police kept the demonstrators from the airport, which was cordoned off to everyone except persons with plane tickets. Similar security measures were taken in New Delhi two hours earlier when demonstrations broke out against the arrival of President Nixon's national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, for a two-day visit.

Agnew, on a 10-nation, month-long goodwill tour, said an improved attitude in the Arab world toward the United States had strengthened chances for a major U.S. role in settling Middle East problems.

The vice president, whose next scheduled stop is Kuwait, said he will not try to play a role in the Middle East negotiations but will try to get more understanding and sympathy for the Nixon administration's peace efforts.

He added it is important for the Arab nations to know that U.S. aid for Israel is designed to create stability in the Middle East and that "we do not seek to place any nation in a position of superiority—military superiority—of the type that would encourage aggressions."

Independence Day Highlighted by Outings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Picnics, family outings and fireworks displays highlighted a relatively quiet Independence Day weekend in Arkansas.

Officials said that most of the state's parks and recreation areas were filled to capacity Monday as Arkansans wound up the celebration of the nation's 156th birthday.

One of the biggest celebrations was the annual Fourth of July picnic at Portia in Lawrence County. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., was the main speaker. Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., and state Sen. Robert Harvey also attended.

McClellan, who has hinted that he will be a candidate for re-election next year, sounded like a candidate Monday.

He said one of the reasons he attended the picnic was because if he had waited until next year and was opposed for re-election his opponent would say that was the only reason for McClellan attending.

The state's senior senator told the audience he had worked hard to bring progress to Arkansas.

He cited an example of his hard work as the completion of the McClellan-Kerr Arkansas River Navigation Project.

Turing to regional projects of interest, McClellan said he would now turn his efforts to see that the White River was made navigable.

He also said he was working on the Village Creek Watershed project and the Foley Dam on the Strawberry River.

"These are the things that are making Arkansas," McClellan said. "These are the things that are making jobs for our children."

Hijackers Back in Jail in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A U.S. Navy deserter and his Guatemalan girl friend charted in the hijacking of a Braniff jetliner over the weekend were back in jail today after an Argentine judge referred the case to a higher court.

Robert Lee Jackson, 36, of Maryville, Tenn., and Lydia Lucretia Sanchez, 23, a Guatemalan living in Mexico, were held at La Plata, the provincial capital 40 miles south of Buenos Aires.

The government had planned to bring them before Federal Judge Luis Gerrello in La Plata on charges of kidnaping and theft of an aircraft. But Gerrello heard police testimony Monday, reviewed statements from members of the Braniff plane crew and then decided that the case was outside his jurisdiction. He referred it to a higher federal court.

Jackson and Miss Sanchez surrendered Sunday after hijacking the Boeing 707 Friday on a flight from Acapulco to San Antonio, Tex. Forty-three hours and 7,650 miles later the plane landed at Buenos Aires after stops at Monterrey, Mexico, Lima, Peru, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. It was a record hijacking distance, topping the 6,900-mile flight from California to Rome by Rafael Minichiello.

Argentine officials refused to let the plane refuel and proceed to Algeria, the destination Jackson wanted.

The FBI charged Jackson with air piracy and assault with a deadly weapon, but the U.S. government did not press the Argentine government for extradition. "It's their baby now," said a U.S. Embassy spokesman after Argentine officials said they would insist on prosecuting Jackson. But the Mexican government said it was preparing to ask for extradition of the hijackers.

Daley, who said a sergeant-at-arms tried to block him from speaking, objected to a rule making any delegate liable to expulsion from the convention plus possible further punishment for any physical disturbance.

Daley predicted further challenges today to proposed dues hikes of $2 per month over two years to a minimum of $3 per month. A larger share, up 65 cents to $2.15, would go from local payments to the union's international headquarters.

"This is a mandatory increase of $2 in dues without any vote of the membership. No delegate wants this," Daley said.

A 10 per cent boost in personal income tax has been imposed in the mountainous kingdom of Mbabane, Swaziland.

Kissinger in India, Met by Hecklers

By MYRON BELKIND

Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — White

House adviser Henry Kissinger arrived in New Delhi today amid small-scale demonstrations protesting the two-day visit by President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser.

Police kept the demonstrators away from Kissinger. But he was certain to run into vigorous criticism from Indian officials outraged because the United States is continuing to ship arms to the Pakistani army despite its bloody suppression of the independence movement in East Pakistan.

About 500 police cordoned off the New Delhi airport and held back 50 Communist and Socialist demonstrators shouting "Kissinger go home" and carrying a huge banner reading "Kissinger of Death Go Back."

Some had baskets of eggs and tomatoes to throw but they never got anywhere near Kissinger.

Waiting buses took them to the U.S. Embassy two miles away, and they charged into the walled compound. U.S. officials quickly bolted the steel doors of the embassy building, and police arrived a few minutes later and chased the demonstrators away.

Kissinger conferred with embassy officials this afternoon and meets Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, Foreign Minister Swarn Singh, Defense Minister Jagjivan Ram and other senior officials Wednesday. He goes to Pakistan Thursday.

Foreign Minister Singh said he was given a "clear assurance" during his visit to Washington in mid-June that there would be no more military shipments to Pakistan until a satisfactory political settlement was reached with the East Pakistanis. But since then three freighters have left the United States with arms for Pakistan, U.S. officials have admitted that there may be more.

The Nixon administration says the arms were ordered before it banned such shipments and they cannot be interfered with. But this explanation is not accepted by the Indians.

Kissinger came to India from Bangkok, where Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman said he assured Thai leaders there will be no change in U.S. commitments to Thailand.

Convicted Mayor Going Back on Job

By DENNIS STERN

Associated Press Writer

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Jersey

City Mayor Thomas J. Whelan says he will be back at his City Hall desk Thursday, although a federal jury convicted him and seven others of extorting kickbacks from contractors.

Whelan was smiling and relaxed Monday after a federal court jury of nine women and three men found him guilty of all 29 counts of extortion and conspiracy to extort. The jury deliberated for four hours in an extraordinary holiday weekend session.

The original indictment last November charged each defendant with two counts of conspiracy to extort and 32 counts of extorting $182,000 from contractors, engineers and suppliers doing business with Jersey City and Hudson County.

Five counts were dismissed by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Robert Shaw, dropping the sum of the extortion to $165,000.

Only with Jersey City Business Administrator Phillip Kunz was the reputation of "guilty" findings by the jury broken. Kunz was convicted on 17 counts and acquitted on the other 12.

Convicted with Whelan and Kunz were Hudson County Democratic Chairman Walter Wolfe; Jersey City Council President Thomas Flaherty; Hudson County Treasurer Joseph Stapleton; Hudson County Police Chief Fred Kropke; Jersey City Purchasing Agent Bernard Murphy; and Port of New York Authority Commissioner William Sternkopf.

Conviction on each count except one carries a maximum of 20 years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. The second conspiracy count carries a maximum of a five-year term and a $10,000 fine. No date for sentencing was set.

Stewart, 15; Willie Stewart, 16, all of Rt. 1, Hope. The accident occurred at 7:40 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Rebecca Faye Rogers Knox, 33, of Dallas was killed Sunday night and three persons were injured in a two-car collision on Highway 67 about a mile north of Hope.

State police said the injured were Juanita Statts, 37, of Dallas, a passenger in the Knox car, and Mrs. Marie L. Gordon, 32, of Waskom, Tex., the driver of the other car, and Melonie Gordon, 8, of Waskom, a passenger.

Police said the accident happened when the Gordon station wagon crossed the center line and struck the Knox car headon.

The body of Rebecca Faye Rogers Knox has been transferred to Aniston, Ala. for funeral services by Oakcrest Funeral Home.

The third death occurred when Floyd Marshall, 73, turned into a private driveway at the community of Macedonia, near Columbus, and lost control of his car. The car hit a stump and ran into a tree. According to the Sheriff's Office the brakes went out on the car. The accident happened Monday morning about noon. Marshall was pronounced dead on arrival at Branch Hospital.

Charles D. Fultcher, 28, of Texarkana was killed Friday night in a one-car accident on Highway 355 near Tolletoe, Ark.

Trial Judges Advised to Keep Cool

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's trial judges were advised today to keep cool and reasonable while dealing with unruly defendants and lawyers.

If a lawyer misbehaves, censure him; if a defendant carries on, order him out of the courtroom.

But even when the disruptive tactics are deliberate, keep cool.

This is the nub of proposed guidelines for judges put before the American Bar Association's House of Delegates. They are part of an overhaul of courtroom standards.

"The trial judge should be the exemplar of dignity and impartiality," the 297 delegates attending the ABA's 94th annual meeting here were told.

"He should exercise restraint over his conduct and utterances. He should suppress his personal predilections, and control his temper and emotions."

The guidelines were produced by a committee headed by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank J. Murray of Boston. Part of a larger study still under way, they were pushed ahead for adoption by the policy-making House "because of their priority nature."

The judge's power to keep order is recognized. In fact, he is encouraged to use it, beginning with "a gentle correction" to barrering errant lawyers from the courtroom for six months and tossing out defendants, spectators and newsmen who won't keep quiet.

"The right to a public trial is no way infringed by excluding unruly persons, whoever they may be, and those whose conduct tends to menace the participants," the committee said.

And yet, when it becomes necessary for the judge to crack the whip, he "should do it in a firm, dignified and restrained manner, avoiding repartee, limiting his comments and rulings to what is reasonably required for the orderly progress of the trial."

Fish Pier May Be Replaced

BOSTON (AP) — Fish Pier, a landmark in the city for 57 years, may soon be replaced by the Massachusetts Port Authority as part of its plans to revitalize Boston's fishing industry.

The Boston Fish Market Corp. has been landlord of the facility for 10 years. Its lease has 25 years to run.

MPA Executive Director Edward J. King says the authority expects to build a new fish pier at nearby Commonwealth Pier "that will be a big improvement over the present facility."

Sources said it could cost the authority $1 million to acquire the lease.

Club Told About Navajo Indians

MRS. E.A. PENDERGRAFT, TOMMY RUSSELL AND MONA ROWE

What is it like doing mission work among the Navajo Indians in New Mexico? Some of the people from the First Baptist Church who had such an experience this summer told the Hope Rotary Club about it when the weekly club meeting was held at the Town and Country on Friday, July 2.

Dr. Lester Sizemore arranged the program and introduced the speakers. He praised the work of the young people on the trip, but stressed the importance of their fine adult leaders in making the venture a success.

Mona Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Rowe, and Tommy Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Russell, told of their experiences, of the people they met and of what it had all meant to them. Mrs. E.A. Pendergraft, one of the adults on the bus, reported 39 converts to Christianity during the 2-week period. "Equally important," she said, "the young people brought home with them a new spirit."

The new club president, Dr. Sam Strong, presented the past-president's pin to C.R. "Dick" Moore, and he welcomed two guests, Cecil Bittle, Jr. of Limestone, Me., and the Rev. Gerald Trussell, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

the wail's home in New Orleans where a 13-year-old boy got his first coronet. He was sent to the home for shooting off a revolver on New Year's Eve.

Along the way, "Satchmo" went from one-night stands in little towns all across the country to jazz concerts in most of the world's capitals. He made countless recordings, appeared in many movies and lately, had been a favorite guest on television special and talk shows.

Armstrong won acclaim all his life, from kings and savages, from intellectual jazz buffs and kids on the street. He mopped his sweaty brow, rolled his eyes, sang in that growling voice and—most of all—played his horn.

On his 70th birthday in 1970, Armstrong played a recording of one of his early trumpet solos and had this to say:

"Ain't nobody played nothing like it since, and can't nobody play nothing like it now." That could be his epitaph, and as long as those old records are around to be played, nobody is going to argue with him.

U.S. TROOP

five months should bring the U.S. troop level in Vietnam down to about 175,000 by Dec. 1, the sources said. That would be some 9,000 below Nixon's announced goal for that date.

The withdrawal rate conceivably could be ordered increased within that period if the new enemy peace proposal breaks the negotiating deadlock, or if North Vietnamese forces prove unable to mount a serious offensive.

Nixon's latest withdrawal order calls for bringing home 100,000 more American troops between May 1 and Dec. 1. That projected an average of just under 14,300 men a month, almost 28,600 for May and June.

But actual withdrawals in those first two months of the new round totaled nearly 34,000. The Pentagon generally has beaten Nixon's goals in the previous seven withdrawal rounds over the past two years.

The latest official report placed American troop strength in Vietnam at 239,500 men, or 303,900 fewer than the peak commitment of 543,400 in the spring of 1969.

Nixon has promised another announcement Nov. 15 setting a further pullout objective. As he did in April, the President is expected to step up the withdrawal pace another notch.

Two U.S. Army divisions—representing the bulk of major American ground-combat power left in Vietnam—are still positioned in the region below Quang Tri and could be used to help the South Vietnamese if an enemy offensive should develop this summer and early fall.

And, though diminished, there still is significant U.S. airpower available in Vietnam and Thailand and aboard Navy carriers offshore to support the South Vietnamese troops.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

CAPT. AND MRS. MELVIN SIMPSON

The marriage of Margaret Anne Etter to Captain Melvin Lee Simpson was solemnized at the Washington Presbyterian Church at four o'clock on Tuesday, June 15. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Etter of Washington and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Simpson of Mount Ida.

Rev. Robert L. Hyatt, pastor of the Washington Presbyterian Church, performed the double ring ceremony. David Pearson, of Hope, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Always". He was accompanied by Mrs. Moss Rowe of Washington, who played a program of pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches.

The marriage vows were exchanged before the altar banked with evergreens and white ribbon bows. On each side of the place of ceremony were seven-branched candelabra and floor baskets of white stock, majestic daisies and greenery. The candles were lighted by Miss Kristen Roberts of Sherman, Texas, niece of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of pink chiffon over taffeta. The bodice and bouffant sleeves were overlaid with white Alencon lace. The high neck was finished with a stand-up ruffle of pink chiffon. A wide pink satin belt and bow accented the Empire waist. Her headpiece was a small caplet of pink lace modillions and tulle. Her bridal bouquet was a nosegay of multicolor garden flowers with a cascade of white ribbon streamers tied in loveknots.

Miss Deborah Lynn Simpson of Mount Ida, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a formal length dress of pink dotted organza over taffeta with a low neck, cap sleeves, and an Empire waist. She wore short white gloves and carried a nosegay of white daisies tied with pale green ribbon streamers. The flower girl, little Miss Mary Nannette Burke, and Miss Kristen Roberts, who lighted the candles, wore long pink dresses identical to that of the maid of honor. Mary Nannette wore a bandeau of pink rosebuds in her hair and Kristen a wristlet of pink rosebuds.

Best man was the groom's brother, John Thomas Simpson of Mount Ida. Ushers were William H. Etter V, brother of the bride, Thomas E. Roberts of Sherman, brother-in-law of the bride, and Richard Bonady of Wynne and Delano Sanders of Jacksonville, brother-in-law of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a summer dress of yellow cotton and lace with white accessories. Her corsage was a yellow cymbidium orchid. The groom's mother wore a lavender silk dress accented with a floral print

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rupert Crosse is a difficult man to typecast, and that has been both good and bad for his acting career.

A few years ago, when roles began opening in the movies and television for black actors, Crosse was out of work for 13 months.

"I didn't fit the producers' image," said Crosse, a lanky man with a face equally adaptable to villain, rascal or hero.

"But I did end up getting the special roles."

One was his picture-stealing part in "The Reivers," the turning point in his career. "The time was right, the story was right and I was ready," he said. "I've been an actor for 14 years."

He was nominated for an Academy Award and that led to a number of guest shots on television and finally to a co-starring role with Don Adams in the new NBC comedy-adventure "The Partners."

Crosse and Adams play two squad car detectives, who, according to executive producer Arne Sultan, "do the logical thing. It just doesn't always work for them. Rupert is the balance. He says you can't do that, but Don explains it to him with enough logic that he gets pulled in."

A native of the island of Nevis in the British West Indies, Crosse said, "My comedy will not be in the jokes but in the situations and my reaction to them. It won't be on my mind to play comedy. That's not my way."

An integral part of his reactions will be his face and soft voice. He said, "The voice is becoming more of an asset now. Sometimes playing meanies or weirdoes, you get the creepy thing in the voice. I think the fact that it's not too loud helps. My voice doesn't jump out at people."

For traveling the bride wore a white knit dress and matching sleeveless coat with red and blue trim and red accessories. Captain and Mrs. Simpson are both graduates of Henderson State College. He returned home on June 9 from a year of military service in Vietnam. The bride has been a member of the Washington School faculty for the past two years.

Following a wedding trip to Mexico, Captain Simpson, accompanied by his bride, reported to Fort Riley, Kansas on July 1 where he will be stationed until completion of his military service.

Out-of-town guests who attended the Simpson-Etter wedding were Mrs. Charles N. Trimble, Sr., grandmother of the bride, David Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Trimble, Elizabeth and John D. Trimble V of El Dorado, Rev. and Mrs. W. Bradley Trimble, Mrs. Jack Mabray, Miss Mary Amanda and John Mabray of Monroe, La., Mrs. James G. Theus of Ruston, La., Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. ## PREGNANT BRIDE WANTS BIG WEDDING

Dear Helen: I'm not ashamed. My friends know I'm pregnant. Terry, my fiancé, and I are happy about it. Our wedding is planned for next month, and it was to be the big, fancy celebration that my mother and I always wanted, my being the only girl. I won't "show" by then. So why not go ahead with the plans?

But my parents say "No." They want us to get married right away in a neighboring state, then make the newspaper announcement a dateless thing, implying that we were really wed in the spring.

In these modern times, is it necessary to hide what doesn't upset you or your contemporaries? If I caved in and "ran away" it would be to please a few of my folks' gossiping friends, for even my mother and father aren't too unhappy or surprised. After all, they knew we roomed together at college.

Which is it, Helen, lovely wedding, or elopement? TERRY AND ME (And Baby Makes Three)

Dear "Me": Let's be practical: you and Terry need money for doctor bills, a crib, layette, baby food, etc. much more than you need a fancy wedding. Perhaps your folks will apply the several thousand dollars they save to a bigger production—their grandchild.

Also, pendulums swing. Who knows how "premature parents" will be viewed a decade or two from now? Perhaps you'll return.

Q. My mother is 58 years old and divorced from my father. Can she get social security benefits on my father's record? He is receiving social security disability benefits.

A. No. A divorced wife must be at least age 62 to get benefits. She also must have been married to him not less than 20 years before the date of the divorce, and she must have been dependent on her ex-husband (received one-half of her support from him, or have a court order or written agreement for support) at the time he became entitled to disability benefits.

He studied for the ministry at one time and worked with underprivileged and emotionally disturbed children before studying acting under John Cassavetes in New York. Later he helped create and appeared in Cassavetes' "Shadows," which won a Venice Film Festival Award.

Q. I have to file an annual report of earnings each year because I earn a little over $1680 a year. I was 72 years old in May, 1970 and understand that the retirement test no longer applies. Do I have to make a report for 1970?

A. It is true that the retirement test does not apply for months beginning with age 72. However, you were not yet 72 years old in the first four months of the year so you must file an annual report of earnings for 1970.

Q. I worked more than 1 expected to in 1970 and earned about $2500. How long do I have to make an annual report of these earnings?

someday be glad your wedding date wasn't "fixed" with newspaper stories and the remembered "talk" that goes with all-out extravaganzas.—H. Dear Helen:

I read the letter about marriage contracts and really got depressed. How about love? If you're to marry, you should be so much in love you KNOW it will last. You shouldn't have to learn or test love, leaving a wide-open door if you guessed wrong.

This is a selfish, gimme-gimme kind of partnership. Why marry at all?—IN LOVE FOREVER

Dear Helen:

Seems to me a "marriage contract with renewable options," as suggested by "Forward Thinker" would be all in the men's favor. If a fellow is working his way through college and decides he wants a girl to share expenses, do his chores and sleep with him—and she's unwilling without marriage—then all he need do is offer a "contract." At the end of the one-year "change your mind" period, he could say "Get lost!" and find a new girl.

As for the seven-year "take it or leave it" decision, what happens to the children? And to the furniture, house, car, other possessions? Dissolution wouldn't be as simple as it sounds—but there might be many more break-ups because of the law.

If you marry on these grounds, you won't try as hard, whereas a church wedding implies lasting love and inspires a will to change and adjust to each other.

I hope "F.T.'s" predictions never come true!—K.H.

Dear Helen: I'm all for marriage contracts. Because I'd like to break mine and try again.—BARNEY, AFTER FIVE YEARS

Dear Readers: Predictably, those against marriage contracts were the very young, "never marrieds." Those in favor were the older, "wish we hadn't" types. But the "anti-contract" people outnumbered the "pros" four to one.—H

Forbidden Flowers

To the nature-loving judge, the prisoner's offense—picking flowers in a public park—was something horrendous. Counting each picked flower as a separate crime, the judge imposed a fine of $720 or six years in jail.

But when the prisoner appealed to a higher court, the sentence was thrown out. The court said it was so harsh that it violated the United States Constitution's ban on "cruel and unusual punishment."

As a rule, when we use the expression "cruel and unusual punishment," we think of physical chastisement like flogging or maiming.

However, a too-severe jail term may also be held unconstitutional on the same grounds. In recent years, courts have shown a growing concern for humanitarian considerations in the field of sentencing. As one judge put it:

"What constitutes cruel and unusual punishment is to be judged in the light of developing civilization, so that what might not have been cruel and unusual yesterday may well be so today."

Nevertheless, even the longest possible sentence—life imprisonment without possibility of parole—will be upheld where reasonably related to the crime that has been committed.

Thus, in the case of a brutal kidnapping, such a sentence was held not to violate the defendant's constitutional rights. Calling attention to the nature of the offense, the court said the sentence was "not so severe as to shock the moral sense of the community."

What about an open-end sentence, like "one to twelve years"? When that punishment was imposed on a convicted burglar, he complained that the very uncertainty was a kind of cruelty.

But the sentence was upheld on appeal, where the court pointed out that the flexibility might well work out to the prisoner's advantage by speeding his release. The court said it was merely a device, within reasonable limits, to put his fate in his own hands.

Trevino, Not Palmer, Gets Attention

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The tip-off came last week in the Canadian Open.

Arnold Palmer—The King, pro golf's all-time leading money winner, its most dynamic performer, the greatest drawing card the game has ever known—was making the turn and was about to hit his tee shot on No. 10.

An announcement was made on the adjacent first tee, first in French, then English.

"Now on the tee, the U.S. Open champion, Lee Trevino."

The vast gallery surrounding Palmer began to melt away. A dozen, a few score, began to amble away from Palmer toward Trevino's already huge gathering.

More fans joined them, the walk became a trot—and then it was a full-scale stampede, literally hundreds of people running pell-mell away from Palmer to watch the brash and cocky Trevino do his thing, play the game of golf as well as any man alive today.

He may not yet be king, or even aspire to the purple. His fire-engine red regalia of payday Sunday and money-green are more his colors.

"If the money's there, I'll play on a gravel road," he once said.

He's not Palmer. He's no Gary Player, the deadly-intense, dedicated little South African. He's no Billy Casper, a quiet and sober surgeon, delicately cutting his way around a course.

And he's not Jack Nicklaus, the awesome blacksmith hammering out an iron coffin of defeat for his opponents.

He's Trevino, Super Mex. One of a kind. A rags to riches character who captured the imagination of the public as he grabbed the staid old game by the throat, shook it, worried it, flaunted tradition.

He twice passed up invitations to play in the Masters, one of the world's four major championships and a bastion of the game's Establishment.

Instead of competing on the storied acres of the Augusta National course, the 1970 leading money winner and Vardon Trophy champion played in something called the New Mexico Club pro championship on a desert layout near the Mexican border.

It's actions such as those that have helped make this 31-year-old Mexican-American grandson of a Dallas gravedigger one of the most popular performers the game has seen, a pied-piper luring deserters from Arnie's Army, pulling the crowds in the gate with his chatter and quips and color—and a game that is unorthodox, a product of his days as a golf hustler, of the years scrambling for a buck in biting, sand-laden winds of the Southwest.

He's collecting prize money at a record clip.

His victory in the Canadian Open Sunday and the $30,000 first prize pushed his earnings for the year to $195,869. If he plays at anything approaching his present clip he'll easily surpass Ben Hogan's career earnings, $207,000—in a single season.

He has won four times this year, more than any other player. And a half-dozen strokes could have given him four other titles. He lost once in a playoff and missed first place in three others by a total of four strokes.

Washington Batters Cleveland

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Washington Senators are moving after all. No, not down to Dallas-Forth Worth—not yet, anyway—but rather up towards the rest of the pack in the American League East.

The Senators battered Cleveland 15-6 Monday for their sixth consecutive triumph and climbed within three games of the fifth-place Indians in their bid to escape the cellar.

That completed a four-game sweep of the Indians during which Washington raked Cleveland pitching for 34 runs and 44 hits, including 11 doubles and nine home runs.

"Everything seems to have jelled with our club," said manager Ted Williams. "We're getting a little togetherness on our hitting. Getting a few runs makes everything easier. This is the best shape we've been in going into Baltimore in a long time."

The Senators have a two-night doubleheader against the Orioles, who were rained out in Detroit Monday and saw their lead in the AL East shrink to three games over Boston when the Red Sox came from behind three times to outslug the New York Yankees 12-7. Elsewhere, California edged Oakland 2-1, Kansas City took two from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 1-0 and Milwaukee edged Minnesota 2-1.

In the National League, Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 7-3, Pittsburgh downed the Chicago Cubs 6-2, the New York Mets trounced Montreal 8-0 after losing the opener 2-1, Houston topped Cincinnati 4-3, Philadelphia edged Atlanta 6-5 and San Diego tripped St. Louis 3-2.

The big guns for Washington were Dick Billings, who walloped a grand slam, and Frank Howard and Del Unser, who contributed three-run homers. Unser also had two doubles and a single.

Billings, a former third baseman and outfielder who converted to catching in the minors last season, was given a major share of the credit for the winning streak. The Senators haven't lost since he replaced Paul Casanova as the regular backstop.

The Red Sox spotted the Yankees a 5-0 lead in the first inning as Gene Michael and Felipe Alou homered and then pounded Mel Stottlemyre and Lindy McDaniel, wrapping it up with six runs in the sixth.

Reggie Smith's three-run homer and Carl Yastrzemski's bases-loaded single sparked Boston's first comeback. After Bobby Murcer's homer put New York in front, Rico Petrocelli homered to square matters again.

Trailing 7-6 with two out in the sixth, Petrocelli slammed a bases-loaded triple and George Scott and Joe Lahoud followed with home runs to complete the scoring.

Rudy May, 4-5, recorded his first victory since May 8 as the Angels held off the A's, whose lead over the runner-up Royals in the American League West was sliced to 10 games.

Tony Conigliaro's sacrifice fly drove in California's first-inning run and Jim Spencer delivered the decisive tally with a double in the fifth against Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 11-7.

May checked the A's on six hits until Joe Rudi's leadoff double in the eighth but Dave Laroche and Lloyd Allen came in from the bullpen to halt the threat.

Jim Rooker, who had lost six times, fired a three-hitter for his first victory of the season in the Royals' nightcap victory over the White Sox. The only run came in the first inning on Freddie Patek's double and a single by Amos Otis.

Otis drove in two runs in the opener as Kansas City ended Chicago's six-game winning streak. The Royals, who had been shut out twice and blanked in 24 consecutive innings by the Sox, jumped on Tom Bradley for four runs and six hits in the first inning.

Minnesota's Jim Perry walked Ron Theobald with the bases loaded in the seventh inning, forcing in the winning run and enabling the Brewers to rip the Twins. Theobald also drove in Milwaukee's first run with a sacrifice fly following Tommy Harper's third-inning triple.

Attendance Up at July 4th Races

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Holiday attendance and betting was up for the second straight year at the nation's thoroughbred horse racing tracks Monday while Twice Worthy and Ack Ack scored in the biggest races.

An Associated Press survey showed attendance of 355,994 and betting of $30,383,895 at 19 tracks in the windup of the July 4 weekend.

Aqueduct in New York and Hollywood Park in California led the tabulations in other years. A turnout of 56,900 bet $5,287,883 at the Big A. A crowd of 51,299 wagered $4,867,995 at Hollywood.

Monmouth Park in New Jersey and Arlington in Chicago were the only other tracks with mutual handles in excess of $2 million. A crowd of 27,928 bet $2,954,119 at Monmouth. At Arlington $2,618,546 was wagered by 31,509.

Twice Worthy, a surprising $13.20 favorite, won the $115,400 Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct by half a length over Ejemplo. It was one of the largest win prices returned by a favorite in years in a major stakes race.

Ack Ack scored as the favorite, too, in the $79,850 American Handicap at Hollywood. He was odds-on, however, and paid only $3.20 in chalking up his sixth straight stakes victory by four lengths over Divide and Rule.

Forward Gal, $12.40, won the $57,700 Monmouth Oaks at Monmouth while Knight In Armor $4.80 took the $56,200 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington.

San Ange, $7.40, was declared the winner of the $58,850 Firecracker Handicap at Liberty Bell Park after Well Mannered was disqualified from first position and placed second for interference in the stretch.

Irish Sweeper, $23.20, beat the 1-2 favorite Chassett Tribe, by 2½ lengths in the $28,250 Dover Stakes at Delaware Park. Raggedy Andy, $36.40, also surprised by winning the Stars and Stripes Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Might, $8.20, won the $40,000 George Brandeis Handicap at Ak-Sar-Ben, La. Song $14, scored in the Independence Day Handicap at Detroit and Princess Jo Jo, $62.40, took the Roman Candle Handicap at Calder Park in Florida.

Swacoco was another long shot winner taking the Buckeye Turf Handicap at Thistledown and paying $93.80.

Dodgers 7-3 Over Giants

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
A holiday series against Los Angeles or a glance at the National League West Standings is enough to give San Francisco's sagging Giants a bad case of the willies.

A pair of Willies—Davis and Crawford by name—gave it to the Giants Monday, teaming for a fifth-inning uprising that vaulted the charging Dodgers to a 7-3 victory and chopped San Francisco's once-huge divisional lead to a vulnerable 3½ games.

In Monday's other National League games, the New York Mets split a doubleheader with Montreal, dropping the opener 2-1, when crushing the Expos 8-0 in the finale, Pittsburgh rallied to whip the Chicago Cubs 6-2, Houston slipped by Cincinnati 4-3, Philadelphia outlasted Atlanta 6-5 and San Diego surprised St. Louis 3-2.

In American League action, Kansas City swept a pair from the Chicago White Sox, 6-1 and 1-0, Boston outslugged the New York Yankees 12-7, Milwaukee edged Minnesota 2-1, Washington bombed Cleveland 15-6 and California slipped by Oakland 2-1. The Baltimore Orioles, game at Detroit was rained out after three innings with the Tigers leading 1-0.

Only about a month ago the Giants were running away in the West, holding a solid 10-game lead and giving everyone else the Willies—namely Mays and McCovey.

Mays, a spry 40 years old, was batting a hot .335 with a dozen home runs and McCovey was not far behind at .319 with nine homers.

Since then, however, San Francisco has less than half its games, Mays' average has dipped to .385, and McCovey, bothered by repeated knee ailments, has played sporadically and is down to .292, each has added just two homers in that stretch—and no one has really picked up the slack.

Davis of the Dodgers, meanwhile, continues to career along in the race for the batting championship with an average that has remained steadily above the .350 mark. And in that span the Dodgers have won 21 of 30.

Los Angeles, which trailed San Francisco before exploding for a 10-run eighth inning and a 14-4 trouncing of the Giants Sunday, found itself behind again Monday before loading the bases in the fifth.

Up came Davis—and in came the runs as he tripled to tie the game. Moments later Richie Allen's sacrifice fly put the Dodgers ahead. And two innings later Crawford gave them some breathing room with a homer.

Walter Alston, the Dodgers' pilot, acknowledged that Davis has been the sparkplug but added: "A lot of different guys have been contributing and that's good. You can't rely on one man, so it's good to spread it around."

The Mets' losing spin reached five games in the opener of their twin-bill—and they had scored but four runs in the slump—as John Strohmayr fired a five-hitter and the Expos scored their runs on a pair of bases-loaded walks in the eighth inning.

But Cleon Jones came to the rescue in the second game, driving in four runs on a homer and single to back the three-hit hurling of Ray Sadecki, who retired Montreal's last 19 batters in order.

The Pirates, who had dropped four of six games, trailed the Cubs 2-0 after five innings before two-run singles by Manny Sanguillen and pitcher Steve Blass, 10-4, highlighted a pair of three-run rallies, enabling Pittsburgh to widen it's National League East lead to 4½ games over New York and nine over Chicago.

The Astros made it a four-game sweep over the league's defending champion Reds as they rallied from a 3-1 deficit with three runs in the sixth, the final two on Jim Wynn's two-out single.

Willie Montanez poled a game-winning sacrifice fly to deep center field in the eighth inning as the Phillies cut the Braves' winning string at six games. Don Money drove in a pair of runs for the Phils with a double and a triple and Earl Williams crashed a three-run homer for Atlanta.

Joe Torre homered for the Cardinals and Nate Colbert had one for the Padres but it was Colbert's single and Ollie Brown's double with one out in the bottom of the ninth that enabled San Diego to halt a four-game losing skid.

Baseball Players File Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — The Major League Baseball Players Association, contending it needs figures of its new television contract with NBC to prepare negotiations on a new pension and insurance plan, has filed an unfair labor practice suit against the 24 major league clubs.

The action was announced Monday by Marvin Miller, executive director of the association. In a stinging statement, he accused the club owners of acting "arrogantly" and in a manner "challenging and insulting" the players.

The charge was filed with the New York regional office of the National Labor Relations Board. Upon receiving the charge, John J. Gaherin, labor counsel for the club owners, told the board "it was without merit and should be dismissed."

Dick Moss, counsel for the association, said the MLPA had made a formal request for specifics of the new contract and had "been told ... that it is none of our business. The association now seeks an NLRB order for the clubs to supply such details."

The charge contends that the club owners' refusal to furnish the association with a breakdown of the terms included in the $71.75 million, four-year contract with NBC hampers the association in preparing for its forthcoming negotiations.

Donohue Wins at Pocono

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Mark Donohue says the new caution flag system used at the inaugural Schaefer 500-mile automobile race could have cost him a heartbreaking defeat, but he likes it.

The 34-year-old Donohue won the Schaefer Saturday at the 2.5-mile Pocono International Raceway in one of the closest 500-mile finishes in U.S. Auto Club history.

Donohue, a baby-faced blond from Media, Pa., won by 1.2 seconds over Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif. A. J. Foyt was third, Mario Andretti fourth and Bill Vukovich Jr. fifth. The previous closest 500 finish was two-tenths of a second between first and second last September at Ontario, Calif.

The new caution flag system—for a 500-mile race—works this way. When the yellow flag goes up, the pace car comes out and leads the field around the track until the danger is over. This allows the cars to bunch behind the leader. Ordinarily when a yellow flag is raised the cars maintain their positions at their own pace.

"I don't think that racing this way is as tiring as it is to race at Indianapolis where you don't bunch up under the yellow behind the pace car," said Donohue. This allows everybody to rest. Instead of one big race it's like 10 little races.

Where he believed the new system hurt was in losing a 10 and 12 second lead when the cars bunched behind the pace car under yellow conditions.

Donohue completed a spectacular weekend, winning the GBX Trans-American sedan race in Brainerd, Minn., Sunday. After winning the Schaefer 500, he boarded team manager Roger Penske's jet for the 1,000-mile flight to Brainerd, arriving at 2 a.m., won the pole position in a morning qualifying run, then streaked to an 85.1 second victory over Peter Revson of New York in the 210-mile race at Donnybrook.

Timing Is Important to John Ruane

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A sense of timing is important to a jockey and no one can fault John Ruane in the first two races of the New York Racing Association's Handicap Triple Crown. He won both—on different horses.

Ruane, who rode Tunex to victory in the Metropolitan May 31 at Belmont Park, won the Suburban Monday at Aqueduct aboard Twice Worthy as Tunex finished third, under Bobby User. Twice Worthy did not run in the Metropolitan.

Ruane also exhibited quick judgment and a sense of direction in the 1¼ miles, $115,400 Suburban.

The outside route got the Saddle Rock Farm 4-year-old colt, timed in 2:02 1-5 under 116 pounds, home by a half-length ahead of Stephen Calder's Argentine-bred Ejemplo, 114. Tunex, 114, owned by Jack Dreyfuss, was another three-lengths back and a head in front of Meadow Stable's Hydrologist, 115.

The victory, which was worth a $13.20 win mutual to Twice Worthy's backers in the crowd of 56,900 and $69,240 to the owner, capped a comeback from injury for the son of Ambiose-Commemoration II. It was the second win in three 1971 starts for the bay who had been sidelined from last September until June 11.

Reach for KING EDWARD INVINCIBLE DELUXE

Winesberry Praised by Ralston

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out some off-season college football wash: Coach John Ralston of Stanford's Pacific-8 and Rose Bowl champions got to see a good part of the United States last week.

From Lubbock, Tex., where he helped coach the West in the American Football Coaches Association's All-America Game, to the New York City area, to Baltimore, and finally back home to PALO ALTO, Calif.

Almost off-handedly, Ralston dropped a real bombshell. With memories of Jim Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner and a record-setting quarterback, still fresh on campus, Ralston said that John Winesberry, who will be a sophomore come fall, "may be the best football player ever at Stanford."

Winesberry is a 6-foot-2, 190-pound running back from Tulsa, Okla. He led the Stanford frosh last fall with 298 yards in 78 carries. He also caught 15 passes for 170 yards and three touchdowns.

Stanford won out over Missouri and Kansas in the recruiting race for Winesberry, who'll be a flanker this season—the Indians have a pair of veteran running backs—but likely will go back to lugging the ball in 1972.

Plunkett, by the way, is rumored to be awfully close to signing with the New England Patriots and Ralston has no doubts he will make it big in the pros ... eventually.

"I hate to see him start the opener and break right in," Ralston said.

Plunkett got a big break at Stanford because the offensive backfield coach, Jack Christiansen, was a star defensive back in the pros and later spent nine years on the staff of the San Francisco 49ers, the last five as head coach.

Ralston thinks the Pac-8 is the toughest conference in the country "with the Big Eight close." That ought to raise some howls from the South.

"The quality is fantastic," he said. "There were seven good teams last year. UCLA gave Texas a helluva game and Southern Cal, which had an off-year, beat the tar out of Alabama."

Kicker for Chargers Loses Legs

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — Dale Allen Eidson, set to try out as a San Diego charter placekicker next week, has lost both his legs in a July 4 explosion of firecrackers.

Eidson was reported in critical condition after undergoing extensive surgery at Concord Community Hospital. He lost both legs and part of his right hand, doctors said Monday.

Police said Eidson, 24, was injured Sunday night when an undetermined number of firecrackers exploded in a five-gallon can. Cause of the blast, which broke windows in two homes, was under investigation, officers said.

Eidson played at Diablo Valley College and San Francisco State College, where he set several kicking records.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Isaac's pimentered Dodge and three other rejuvenated Chrysler products ran away with Sunday's Firecracker 400 race ... by an eighth of an inch.

Ford's two-month domination of superspeedways came to a thudding halt as the Dodge-Plymouth team finished 1-2-3-4. Donnie and Bobby Allison, Ford's finest, settled for a 5-6 windup.

"Those Ford people have been happy for a couple of months," said Firecracker king Isaac. "I hope they're still happy."

MONTREAL (AP) — As far as Neal Harvey is concerned Lee Trevino is the greatest golfer who ever lifted a club.

The 33-year-old Harvey is Trevino's personal caddy and working with Trevino "is like caddyding for myself. I know his game and I know his attitudes."

Harvey commented on his association with the U.S. Open champion after Trevino had won the $150,000 Canadian Open Sunday with a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff with Art Wall Jr. They had tied at 275 for the regulation 72 holes.

Harvey, who now lives in Los Angeles, said he thought the turning point came on the 16th hole, when Trevino from 115 yards out, hit a nine-iron shot six feet to the right of the pin and putted in for a birdie. That tied him with Wall.

Harvey has been with Trevino for 3½ years, but he said their association goes back to their boyhood days in Dallas, Tex., where they grew up.

Harvey said he is paid a salary and also receives a percentage of Trevino's earnings. "Then there's the bonuses," he added. "Lee's been very good to me that way."

After Trevino won the $30,000 first prize he kidded Harvey. "I had to win here to be able to keep you going for the next few weeks."

That was a reference to the fact Harvey will be on vacation while Trevino is competing in the British Open. Personal caddies are not permitted in the British Open.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

At 81, He Talks About Problems

Dr. Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—In regards to your column on prudence can jeopardize health I must say, how true. I am not going to be prudish. I was hospitalized for excessive urination, one quart at night and getting up five or six times. I was operated on for hernia in my left groin and while there they searched my bladder and stretched my prostate gland. After two months there is no improvement. I have cold hands and feet and much cramping at night. After sexual intercourse blood in semen after ejaculation. What could cause this? I am full of pep most of the time. I exercise and watch my diet. I am 81 years young and my doctor said I could still father babies. How about that?

Dear Reader—Yes, how about that. You are just a spring chicken compared to some men who have fathered children. I suspect the most common cause for the blood you mention is an inflammation of either your prostate gland or the seminal vesicles. The latter are little tiny pouches like saddlebags next to the prostate, where semen is stored. Unless it is treated you may not have as much pep as you now have. An infection anywhere can eventually de-

JACOBY MODERN follows modern expert practice and plays that all direct raises are limit bids. The single raise shows 7-9 supporting points, the raise to three (single jump) shows 10-12 with at least seven in high cards and the jump to four shows at least 13 points in support.

Supporting points are in addition to high card and distribution. You count one point extra for each trump over three and one point extra for each singleton or void. Furthermore, you cheat a little on the light side. Thus, the North hand counts 13 points in support of one spade, but we would give the same raise without the jack of diamonds.

North has no idea about what his partner can make. He does know that, if his partner has a minimum, the opponents have half the high cards and the hand may belong to them, so he is making it hard for them to compete.

Actually, South has a very big hand. With two first-round, plus two second-round controls and a strong two-suiter, South wants to be in six if his partner has an ace. He uses Blackwood and bids the slam.

There is nothing to the play. South wins the diamond lead, draws trumps and claims his contract, while conceding a club trick.

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?

A—Bid three hearts. This is slightly weaker than the normal limit raise. With a strong hand you would redouble.

TODAY'S QUESTION

West bids three spades. Your partner passes and East bids four spades. What do you do now?

TIMELY QUOTES

It's my pleasure to remind the audience that if you see one FBI director you've seen them all.

—Martha Mitchell, joking with J. Edgar Hoover, the nation's first and only FBI director, at a dinner in her home.

crease a person's energy level. Some people even have fever from inflammation of the prostate. This is not the same thing as simple enlargement but an acute infection analogous to having an acutely infected throat or sinuses.

Many readers write me they have prevented leg cramps at night by wearing warm stockings to bed, winter and summer.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My daughter, 16 years of age, was treated by a doctor for an underactive thyroid condition (determined by examination, no symptoms). She was given tablets for about six months, then checked again. This time the thyroid was overactive and had caused her to become very nervous. He did not give any medication for this but after about two months, the thyroid was normal. She still has occasional bouts of nervousness, possibly associated with her period and the gland. Please explain how her thyroid went from underactive to overactive and then to normal with no medication in about eight months.

Dear Reader—The body is a curious, wonderful machine. Years ago when there were less satisfactory methods for treating overactive thyroid conditions doctors became aware that their thyroid patients would have overactive thyroid conditions in the spring and fall. And don't ask me why. The gland seems to have cycles of more or less activity. If your daughter had in fact had a normal thyroid at the beginning the small amount of thyroid given would not have had any influence. The thyroid gland would simply put out less thyroid hormone. So that has nothing to do with her case. If she had an overactive thyroid gland then she may have it again later.

Sick Marines Released From Hospital

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Thirty-nine Marine recruits hospitalized with kidney problems after long exercise periods are back on their feet, but military spokesmen say the new Leathernecks will remain hospitalized the rest of the week.

Meanwhile, three drill instructors said to have led the exercises were on other duties and Marine authorities continued an investigation.

Capt. M. R. Arnold, public affairs officer, said Monday push-ups were included in exercise periods for the recruits, who were in their first week of boot camp.

Such exercise periods are limited by regulation to five minutes, with 30-second rests.

"Some recruits say the exercise period were 15 minutes while other estimates go higher," Arnold reported of the five or six such periods ordered during a 36-hour period last Thursday and Friday.

The situation surfaced Saturday when six recruits reported to the depot dispensary complaining they were passing dark urine.

"Doctors said it was unusual for six men from one platoon to be troubled by this renal track illness," Arnold said, so all 80 members of the platoon were examined. Thirty-three more were ordered hospitalized for observation.

A hospital spokesman said the illness can be brought on "by unaccustomed exercises of the upper body muscles, such as the arms, shoulders and chest," occurring during push-ups.

Doctors said there is no danger of permanent damage to the kidneys or the renal track.

Trumpeting Cabbie Likes His Music

DENVER (AP) — Jack Kaufman stopped his cab at an intersection and tilted his yellow beret at a jaunty angle. Before the light changed he dragged his trumpet from under the seat and ripped off a chorus of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

"I probably get more requests for that than any other," he said. "They think I'm a screwball. The other drivers do, too. But it pays, man. The fares scale tip you good. You can turn on to a lot of groovy chicks, too."

Kaufman, who learned the oboe as a teen-ager but can't read trumpet arrangements, figures he has a repertoire of more than 1,000 songs.

"I don't do it in the daytime, because I have to watch out for the fuss. They'll bust you ..."

"They busted me one time for playing near the City Park Zoo at 2 or 3 a.m. There was nobody around, but they said I was disturbing the elephants."

Kaufman, 36, is unmarried—"No way, man, in this town, where the chicks outnumber the guys like 5 to 1."

"I've hauled guys around town four or five hours. Once five members of the Oakland Raiders had me haul them around that long, just sight-seeing and listening to me play. Football players are generally good fares. They scale good."

Generally, Kaufman, says, he'll see if a fare is in a good mood. Then, he'll ask him what he wants to hear, or he'll ask him his home state. That's the opening for school fight songs, state songs or other tunes.

Complaints?

"Yeah, a couple. Once a lady at a telephone company got into the cab with a bunch of other gals from the company, on their way home. She complained about the route I was taking, and about the horn. When she got out, I played 'The Funeral March.'"

"That's when she called the boss."

Kaufman, a Canadaigua, N.Y., native, operated a music store and promoted records from 1957 to 1968, but he's never regretted driving a cab.

"A chick told me one time I stopped her from committing suicide by cheering her up," he said.

"I don't play real good, I don't play good at all. But early in the morning, when some guys come out of a music joint and have had a few, I sound pretty good. They think I'm Harry James."

Cox, Tricia Now in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's new son-in-law, Edward Finch Cox, and bride Tricia have arrived here where Cox will work in the office of U.S. Atty. Whitney North Seymour Jr. during the summer months.

Two Secret Service agents accompanied Cox and the President's daughter on their drive Monday from Washington to the New York home of his parents, Col. and Mrs. Howard Cox.

A student at the Harvard Law School, Cox will resume his studies there in the fall.

Typhoon Has Curtailed Vietnam War

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Typhoon Harriet curtailed some U.S. bombing strikes in Indochina today, but America's high-flying B52s blasted suspected North Vietnamese positions in the northern quarter of South Vietnam for the seventh consecutive day.

Unaffected by the weather because they fly as high as 30,000 feet, the eight-jet B52s dropped 270 tons of bombs on suspected enemy supply depots, bunker complexes and rocket launching sites.

Six of the giant Stratofortresses bombed on the western side of the A Shau valley, while three more dropped their bombs along the demilitarized zone north of Fire Base Fuller.

The Vietnam war slipped into another lull as the typhoon moved in from the South China Sea. The storm passed the demilitarized zone about noon and was expected to move inland Wednesday morning in the vicinity of Vinh, in North Vietnam 145 miles north of the DMZ.

Harriet's winds of more than 100 miles an hour curtailed bombing strikes against the Ho Chi Minh trail by fighter-bombers from the carriers Midway and Oriskany in the Tonkin gulf. At Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city 100 miles southeast of the DMZ, all passenger flights were cancelled, there were 8 to 10 inches of rain, and the strong winds knocked down power lines, disrupting electric service.

Associated Press photographer Neal Ulveich, traveling from Quang Tri south to Da Nang, said there was considerable flooding in the coastal region and the roofs of houses were blown off.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported only three scattered clashes in which government forces killed 39 enemy soldiers without suffering any casualties of their own.

Although the lull comes in the wake of the new Viet Cong peace proposal made at the Paris talks last Thursday, sources said it was too soon to tell whether the decline in enemy attacks is a signal from Hanoi that it is ready to negotiate in earnest.

Even before the Viet Cong's peace proposal last Thursday, U.S. intelligence officers predicted that North Vietnamese attacks along the DMZ would drop off. They said the enemy would pull back to regroup and

Another My Lai Case to Be Resumed

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The pretrial hearing for Army Col. Oran K. Henderson, accused of participating in an alleged coverup of the My Lai massacre, resumes today amid speculation a military judge may rule on two key defense motions.

"I expect a ruling on these two motions," Col. Frank J. Dorsey, Henderson's chief military lawyer, said Monday.

The judge, Col. Peter S. Wondolowski, has had the motions under advisement since the last pretrial session June 7.

One seeks dismissal of a charge that Henderson, a 50-year-old career soldier, failed to obey a Vietnam command regulation requiring the reporting of actual and suspected war crimes.

The defense has argued that the regulation is unconstitutionally vague and unenforceable.

The second motion asks Wondolowski to direct the Army to be more specific in an allegation that Henderson was derelict in duty by failing to conduct "a proper and thorough investigation" of reports of the March 16, 1968, massacre.

Henderson's attorneys claim the charge is so broadly drawn that it is unfair and hinders the preparation of an adequate defense.

An Indianapolis native, Henderson is also accused of twice lying to a 1969-1970 Pentagon inquiry headed by Lt. Gen. William Peers into the handling of battlefield and command reports of the slaying of civilians at My Lai.

Henderson, wounded four times in three wars, was commander of the 11th Brigade of the Americal Division at the time of the massacre.

receive supplies, then strike again later in the summer.

The pattern has been for the Communist forces to strike hard in a particular region for several days or weeks, then pull out. Their ability to keep up sustained attacks is limited because their supply lines are extended.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodia's National Assembly adopted a $340 million budget for 1971 with 59 per cent earmarked for the war against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. The total expenditure is $89.1 million more than last year's.

Penn to Sell Everything But Railway

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Trustees of the financially-ailing Penn Central say they may sell everything unrelated to rail transportation it will help get the company back on the profit side of the tracks by 1976.

"We ought to concentrate all of our resources in running the railroad and performing public service," said Jervis Langdon Jr., the only full-time trustee among the four men named by a federal judge last August to reorganize the $6.5 billion firm and salvage one of the biggest business failures in U.S. history.

Formed in 1968, after 10 years of planning, by the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, the Penn Central went into federal bankruptcy court 13 months ago to reorganize while reeling under a mountain of debts.

The 1970 loss was $431 million and this year Langdon estimates it will be close to $250 million but optimistically, he still thinks the railroad "has a good chance of becoming solvent."

"It will take another nine months or a year to get to a point where there is a positive cash flow on a bankruptcy basis," the 65-year-old Langdon said in an interview.

"Then, in addition to that, it will take another two, three, five years at the outside to produce a reorganized company. It's hard to say exactly because so much depends on the economy and also the extent of the inflation to be encountered in the years ahead."

Because it needs fresh cash desperately to lease or buy new equipment, Penn Central recently decided to sell land and buildings in midtown Manhattan in New York City, worth around $1 billion.

The trustees also are conducting a mammoth study to determine what nonrailroad facilities should be kept and what should be disposed of.
